

BELT ROAD SUIT OVER TO MONDAY

The trial of the John H. Wilson suit against the loan fund commission and the Lord-Young Company to compel the commission to give Wilson, as the lowest responsible bidder, the contract for the construction of the Healea section of the belt road, was not concluded in Judge Whitney's court yesterday. The defense still has some testimony to introduce. As the court had set a case for yesterday afternoon and this morning, the Wilson matter was continued until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

HOMESTEAD LOTS SOON AVAILABLE

Land Commissioner Judd is down Waianae way today, where he is looking over the Nanakuli lands that are to be thrown open for homesteading. There is some fine land, suitable for vegetables and grain raising, in the district, and the Commissioner is going over the whole proposition.

The homestead lots at Waiaka, Molokai, are receiving much attention lately, there having been numerous inquiries about the land. The subdividing is all finished, and the land will be available soon for settlement.

MAUI CHAMBER MEETS.

WAILUKU, January 18.—Weekly Times. The Maui Chamber of Commerce met last Friday at 2:15 p. m. in the Town Hall, Wailuku, with Mr. F. F. Baldwin, president, in the chair. The election of officers and trustees for the ensuing year was held and all the old officers re-elected. The committee appointed to submit amendments to the by-laws rendered their report, and two of the articles contained in the by-laws were amended. The matter of choosing a representative from Maui as princess in the Floral Parade was turned over to a committee of three, the Hon. W. T. Robinson, Mr. C. D. Lindsey and Mr. H. B. Weller. A petition from the citizens of Makawao to have the Makawao road macadamized was referred to the Loan Fund Commission.

HAWAII BELT ROAD PLANS

HILO, January 18.—The first public meeting of the last session of the belt road commission took place Thursday of last week. Besides the commissioners, those present were Messrs. Kennedy, Irwin, Metzger, Wright, Beckley, F. S. Lyman, Heen, Correa, Vearse, Swain, Forrest, Filler, Maguire, Harry Hapal and John Akau.

After Chairman Horner had formally opened the meeting, Engineer Bishop made a statement as to what information he had to present. He felt strongly that the work should begin on the section north of Hilo. The commission would not be justified in relocating the road from Hilo to the Puna boundary, as the cost of this work, exclusive of culverts, would run from $34,000 to $41,000.

After some discussion regarding the oil experiments mentioned by Bishop in a report presented, Campbell moved that the first contract be made to include the sections from Wainuku to Honoiki and from Puna to Punaikou, and that the Bolabola road be let as a separate contract. It must be remembered, he said, that the commission would have available only $150,000 until August, when more money would be forthcoming.

Metzger thought the road to the Puna boundary should be placed in shape immediately, owing to its importance as a link of the tourist road to the volcano.

Horner said that Governor Frear had stated that if surveys were ready for immediate work in August, Hawaii might get $300,000 to $350,000, as long as it could be shown that it could be made use of there. It was therefore important to reserve of the funds at present on hand sufficient to carry on extensive surveys.

After considerable discussion, Bishop was called on to give his views. He spoke at some length and instructively, winding up his remarks by saying that in New York the building of roads costing from $4000 to $6000 a mile had been abandoned, owing to the excessive cost of maintenance involved, and roads were now being built costing from $10,000 to $25,000. Personally, Bishop thought it best to make the road twenty-four feet wide with eighteen feet of macadam as far as Punaikou, sixteen feet wide through the Hilo and fourteen feet wide in Hamakua.

Finally the motion to begin at Wainuku carried by the ayes of Campbell, Carter and Hind; Horner and Lewis voting no.

It was decided that the width of macadam on the belt road should be as follows: Hilo to Punaikou eighteen feet; Honoum to Hakalua sixteen feet; Bolabola fourteen feet.

FOR "PINAFORE."

Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell this afternoon informed Director Arthur F. Wall of the Floral Parade that he would have the board's permission to use the Alakea street wharf for the production of the opera "Pinafore" February 21, 22 and 23.

KINDERGARTEN

when there are fourteen flourishing institutions for the little children in the islands, attended by all nationalities.

Playground Poorly Patronized.

Mrs. Mathewson's report on behalf of the playground committee told of the ideal condition of the playground, but also of the deplorable lack of patronage on the part of the children for whom it was intended. In spite of the fact that it is thoroughly equipped with modern play devices and is in charge of a matron, the children who were to have been lured out of the back alleys and other unwholesome places still play in the back alleys, and the average attendance at the playground is not more than sixty a day. At the close of her report Mrs. Mathewson made a plea for a trained superintendent of the playground, and seemed to be supported by the sentiment of the officers, although no definite action was taken at the meeting. The financial reports of Mrs. Prosser and Mrs. Harold Dillingham for the Castle Home and the report of the matron, Miss Johnson, presented that institution in a favorable light and upon a prosperous financial basis.

Mr. Damon's Address.

Frank W. Damon was then called upon to tell the story of his first kindergarten in Hawaii, which incidentally was the first Chinese kindergarten in the world. At the close of his account Mr. Damon made an appeal to the association for the moral support of its members in the founding of a preparatory school for all races which he hopes to establish as an adjunct to the Mid-Pacific Institute in Manoa Valley. A unique feature of Mr. Damon's plan is to build the school as a group of "cottage homes," as he expressed it, to get away from the institutional idea and give the pupils real homes so that they might grow up in a natural home environment.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Richards resigned the presidential chair and Mrs. Ivers took her place as the newly elected president. She expressed the association's appreciation of Mrs. Richards' service in the office and the regret of the members at her resignation.

ELMIRA JOHNSON WINS.

Judge Cooper's jury this morning gave judgment in the sum of $447.50 and costs for plaintiff in the trespass matter of Elmira Johnson vs. Chop Leong. It took three days to try the case.

THREATENED FOR NINETEEN YEARS

Cases of threatening occupied a good share of Judge Monsarrat's attention in the police court this morning. There were three of them.

G. Vierra was put under a bond of $100 to keep the peace for three months with an alternative of ten days in jail.

He threatened to kill his wife and children. Mrs. Vierra stated that she feared that he would carry out his purpose.

"I just said I would kill her to scare her," explained defendant. "I didn't really mean to kill her. I have been threatening to kill her for nineteen years this coming May and have not done so yet, and don't think that I ever shall."

"Why do you threaten your wife?" queried the court.

"I wouldn't blab it out before this audience," replied Vierra. "If you'll put them all out and shut the doors I'll tell you."

(Five minutes confidential business with the judge by both parties.)

"This is a regular bureau for the adjustment of domestic difficulties," remarked Prosecuting Officer Cathcart after the judge had given his decision.

RAIN COATS AT SACHS.

The N. S. Sachs Dry Goods Company has just received a large assortment of ladies' blue serge cravenette coats. These coats are the newest spring patterns and are priced moderately as usual.

It takes an optimist to get more out of a thing than there is in it.

AMERICAN MODISTES TO IGNORE PARIS STYLES.

CHICAGO, January 9.—American style for American women was the slogan set forth today at the second of the three days' session of the National Styles Congress here. It is the first time, say modistes, that the national body has declared itself definitely against the dress influences of the old world.

The congress decided that the time was not ripe for the disclosure of the exact raiment which will adorn American women the coming season.
